

HEALTH AND WELLBEING IN DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

Engaging Health Care Professionals

October 27-28, 2015

University of Toronto Conference Centre, 89 Chestnut Street

Come to Learn More About...

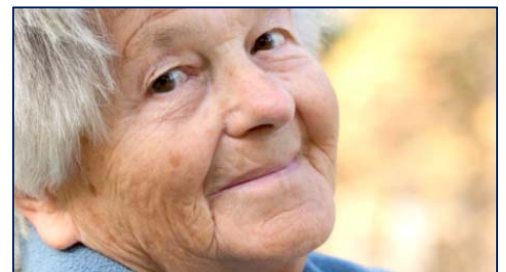

Ethics, Diversity and Inclusion

Workshops

- Creating a Tenant Council: How Leadership evolves through the lived experience of social participation and with exposure to resolving issues in an Intentional Community..
- Impact of Social Determinants of Health in the Care of Individuals with Developmental Disabilities: A Case Study examining Social Supports, Gender, Poverty and Cultural issues
- Lessons Learned from the Development and Implementation of a Clinical Ethics Committee at Surrey Place Centre
- My Information, My Decision: Informed Consent and Supporting Decision Making with Adults who have an Intellectual Disability
- Person-Centered Health Care: Bridging Knowledge Gaps
- Researching together to promote health and well being of people with intellectual disabilities: the potential contribution of participatory research approaches
- Understanding "living labeled": seeing the person beyond the diagnosis

Posters

- Health and Well-being in Preschoolers, Children, and Adolescents with Severe Developmental Disabilities Relative to Peers
- Sexual offender's perceptions on early life experiences: role, gender and forms of parental attachment
- Social Inclusion of Children in School and Community Settings, Part 1: A Thematic Analysis of Multiple Case Studies of Children with Severe Developmental Disabilities

For more information, contact:

Info-PSR1567@cpdtoronto.ca

www.healthandwellbeingindd.ca/

Tel: 416-978-2719/Toll free: 1-888-512-8173