

HEALTH AND WELLBEING IN DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES

Engaging Health Care Professionals

October 27-28, 2015

University of Toronto Conference Centre, 89 Chestnut Street

Come to Learn More About...

Understanding Unique Needs

Workshops

- Adults with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities in Long-term Care – the situation in Ontario
- Applied Behaviour Analysis and Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders
- Meeting the health needs of older people with intellectual disabilities: the findings of a mixed methods study exploring social care support workers needs
- Palliative Care and Intellectual Disabilities
- Perinatal health of women with intellectual and developmental disabilities: Priorities for action
- Understanding Anger: Supporting Adults with Intellectual Disabilities

Posters

- Beyond sleep quantity and quality among people with developmental disabilities: an exploratory study combining phenomenology and the cognitive sciences
- Movement disorders in adults with 22q11.2 deletion syndrome
- Presence With Purpose: Attitudes of Persons with Developmental Disability Towards Medical Students
- The prevalence of overweight and obesity in people with intellectual disabilities: A systematic review
- Through a Trauma-informed Lens: Understanding the Professional Quality of Life of Direct Support Professionals

For more information, contact:

Info-PSR1567@cpdtoronto.ca

www.healthandwellbeingindd.ca/

Tel: 416-978-2719/Toll free: 1-888-512-8173

