Overview

The Health and Wellbeing Conference provides a forum for over 200 health care professionals, students, educators, caregivers of individuals with developmental disabilities, social workers, academic researchers, and strategic decision makers from across Canada to help improve the health and wellbeing of people with developmental disabilities.

The two-day conference will involve plenary sessions, interactive workshops, and poster presentations. Past topics include Autism Spectrum Disorder, Understanding Unique Needs, and Collaboration Between Sectors. Key themes will be effective practices to improve health and wellbeing, innovative and emerging practices of complex needs, and the role of community health care.

In order to make this conference a success, support is required. Please take a moment to review the supporter levels below. Deadline for sponsorship submission is June 30, 2017. (Please note that for any sponsorships received after June 30, 2017, we cannot guarantee a booth space.)
